DC Central Kitchen's goal is to place individuals who have faced significant barriers to employment in meaningful career pathways by providing significant hands-on culinary and career readiness training. To that end, applicants must be able to work FULL-TIME, which may include weekends. If the applicant is not able to do so for any reason, they will not be eligible.

DCCK is an equal-opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for our program without regard to race, color, religion, sex, including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, disability, age, sexual orientation, national origin, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by state or federal law. DCCK is committed to providing access and equal opportunity for all individuals in its employment, services, programs, and activities.

Participants may be subject to random drug screening. DCCK maintains a drug-free work environment and complies with DC law ensuring that responsible marijuana use is and should not be a barrier to employment.

The total cost of the Culinary Job Training program is $1,477,172 annually. $250,000 (17%) is funded through a U.S. Department of Labor – Employment and Training Administration grant. The other $1,227,172 (83%) is funded through private resources and grants from the District of Columbia Government.
